

EUVADIS is an independent consultancy firm, based in Delft / The Netherlands providing advisory and institutional support for all stakeholders in access to affordable medicines and health systems strengthening.

Scope of activities include stakeholder consultations, organizational assessments, project/program evaluations, strategy development, and organization of thematic seminars and conferences

Medicine being sold at a local market in Mozambique. (Photo: Tineke Dhaese/Oxfam)

Trading away access to medicines